WINTER HEARTLANDS EXPERIENCE

TOURS
AROUND
TASMANIA

THE EXPERIENCE

- Enjoy the drive through the Derwent Valley, past New Norfolk and into rich farming land as we head south-west to Mount Field National Park.
- Walk among towering swamp gums, myrtle and tall man ferns as you head to Russell Falls in Mount Field National Park. The magnificent Russell Falls is the most photographed waterfall in Tasmania. You'll understand why when you see it.
- The ecologist will guide you through the Tall Trees Walk where you can discover more about the world's tallest flowering plant – the giant swamp gum.
- Warm up at the Possum Shed café or settle in for a tasty picnic lunch.
- Sit back and enjoy the Heartlands road trip to Rathmore Historic Farm.
- Have a hearty dinner and drinks by the crackling fire.
- Spend the morning on a history tour around the Southern Highlands. Explore the oldest mental asylum in Tasmania with a specialised historian as you walk through the atmospheric landmarks.
- Have lunch at the Quilted Teapot in New Norfolk.
- Go for a wander around the historic property of Rathmore or settle in by the fire with a good book, ready for another delicious gourmet dinner accompanied by Tasmanian wine or special homemade non-alcoholic drinks.
- Rug up and step out under a blanket of stars with an astronomer for a Night Sky Tour.
- Explore our magnificent night sky with an expert who gives deeper insight into the constellations, planets, meteor showers and the Southern Cross.
- Venture to Raho Farm for a round of golf on Australia's oldest golf course.
- Or wine lovers can enjoy a vineyard tour at Meadowbank.
- If gin and whisky are more your thing, there's an optional visit to Lawrenny Estate Distillery, one of the very few 'paddock to bottle' estates.
- Enjoy a picnic hamper of fresh local produce.
