This morning, set off for the eerie silence of the Port Arthur Historic Site. Despite its scenic surrounds, this former prison holds a dark and complex history. Making your way through the Port Arthur Gallery, you'll follow a self-guided audio experience to uncover the stories of hardship that filled the halls of this inescapable prison. Spanning over 30 historic buildings, ruins and scenic walking trails, your exploration brings you to the chilling heart of Tasmania's colonial past, with complimentary site talks at key locations throughout the morning.

Contemplate this site's solemn history and its contrast with the natural beauty of the region on a short harbour cruise around the Isle of the Dead and Point Puer, where the British colonies established a juvenile boys' prison.

Back ashore, take a short drive along the coast to Remarkable Cave, a hidden tunnel through sandstone rocks leading to a secluded, secret beach. Take in the sights over Penguin Rocks from Maingon Bay Lookout, then hit the trail on your way to Tunnel Hill Mushrooms. Thanks to the unique climate of this island, you'll find abundant oyster mushrooms at one of only a handful of such farms in the country. Travel onward to Richmond Village and step into settler history as you wander the galleries and antique shops along the historic main street. You may wish to unearth the story of Isaac 'Ikey' Solomon at the infamous Richmond Gaol, believed to have inspired the character of Fagin in Charles Dickens' classic Oliver Twist. Cross the Richmond Bridge - the oldest of its kind in Australia, constructed by convicts in 1825 - and admire the 19th-century architecture of Saint John the Evangelist Catholic Church.

Later, take to the road again for one of Tasmania's most beautiful scenic roads. Over a leisurely three-hour journey along the Great Eastern Drive, you'll pass rugged cliffs, white-sand beaches, crystalline waters and lush forests, stopping at charming coastal towns on your way to idyllic Coles Bay. What do others say about us?

I cannot speak more highly of our tour guide Keeley. She took us through a brilliantly planned trip, was super friendly to talk to, and had an amazing amount of knowledge about the local flora and fauna in each location. I was sad that the tour had to end!! All of the stops were breathtaking and time flew as the day went on. Incredible trip!! 5 stars, definitely worth it, don't miss out!!

Our tour guide + driver, Mr. Mark Dickensin demonstrated his professional skills on driving, even under pouring rain and sharing much history with fun facts about Tasmania. His hospitality led five of us as a family to an unforgettable trip and we all had great fun. We also thank for the effective communication between Mark and his manager, Jess, on the special request we asked for during the tour.

This visit to Hobart and the 2 nights up country met all my expectations. Mark, the coach driver, luggage handler, and overall information dispenser was superb. His careful driving and commentary made this one of my most memorable trips away.
